

बाताबरणको आशा

Batabaranko Asha (Hope for the Environment)

Presented by the Living Earth Institute (LEI), the America-Nepal Friendship Society (ANFS), NYU South Asian Law Students Association (SALSA), the Rotary Club of Plainsboro, NJ, and the Ridgewood Nepalese Society (RNS).

A Returned Peace Corps Volunteer's effort to help villagers in Nepal protect their endangered natural resources. Funds raised will support environmental education, sustainable agriculture, biodiversity promotion, river protection, environmental scholarship, and eco-tourism initiatives for three villages in Janakpur, Nuwakot, and Dhankuta districts. This year's fundraising goal is $100,000.

Saturday, November 17, 2007

7:00 – 11:30 pm

NYU School of Law

Vanderbilt Hall (Tischman Auditorium)

40 Washington Square South

(Between MacDougal and Sullivan Streets)

“West 4th” Subway Station,

A, C, D, E, F, and V Subway Lines

Minetta Parking on West 3rd Street

$15 Student/$20 General (includes a full Nepalese Dinner catered by “The Himalayan Yak”)

Ticket price includes dinner, drinks, slide presentations, short videos, dance performances, raffles, and special guests. You must bring a photo ID to get in.

Last year's “Shikshyako Asha” (Hope for Education) raised over $70,000 on December 3, 2005. Three 2-story primary school buildings were constructed with these funds. Come see the new schools.

RSVP: Rajeev Goyal, rg745@nyu.edu, 1-516-984-7138

Please make your checks out to “The Living Earth Institute” and mail them to:

Rajeev Goyal

51 Larch Drive,

Manhasset Hills NY 11040.

Letters for tax purposes will be provided by LEI.